Web-Based DOT Specimen Collector Qualification

Lifeloc's online Specimen Collector Qualification system is designed for:

- Instructors
- New collectors
- Collector refreshers & recertifications

Three Steps to Web-Based Specimen Collector Qualification:

1. The procedural portion of the course: This can be completed by the collector candidate alone and at their own pace
2. Trainer performs a recap and Q&A session with the collector candidate
3. The collector candidate completes 5 mock tests, viewable real-time by trainer (online or in person)

Package Benefits:

- Access to course content, resources, tools and materials for the life of the certification (5 years) - review at any time
- The system is consistently and quickly updated when testing protocol and regulations change
- Access wherever there is internet connectivity
- Video example of a testing scenario
- The procedural portion of training is completed by candidates at their own pace
